

Shatterproof

Written by Amanda Walther

You were incredibly strong
After Grandpa was gone
You were shatterproof
Putting a roof
Over Roderick, Catherine and John

And I was ten when you died
I didn't get to say "Goodbye"
When I saw my Mom
I knew something was wrong
I ran to my room and cried

I will be Shatterproof
I'll stand up
I'll spring back like you
I'll be your memory
And you'll live on
In me

After the funeral
Mom took the train to Montreal
And had you laid
In the family grave
With Grampa Carver and all

And even now when I'm scared
I talk to you in a prayer
Heaven might now be real
But somehow it feels
Better if I think that you're there

I will be Shatterproof
I'll stand up
I'll spring back like you
I'll be your memory
And you'll live on
In me

Shatterproof
